ANGUS DECOSTA INDICTED FOR 1ST DEGREE MURDER

Will Face Jury on Charge of Killing Joseph Dobson in this City Last November--Grand Jury Reported Twenty Cases

The Grand Jury for Rockingham County, in session Tuesday at Exeter for the January term of the Superior Court, reported "two bills" in twenty cases for action by the state. A true bill was found against Angus Decosta of this city on a charge of first degree murder for the death of his step-father, Joseph P. Dobson on the evening of Nov. 4, 1916. This was the only indictment for murder.

Three indictments were found for breaking, entering and larceny, two for grand larceny, two for breaking and entering, with intent to steal, one for arson, one for counterfeiting, and several other charges. Charles A. Applebee was indicted on two separate charges, one for abandonment, the other alleging abandonment and refusal to support.

The Grand Jury had a large number of cases to consider and went at their work quickly, completing the work in the one day. Court opened with Judge William H. Sawyer of Concord presiding. It is likely that a special date will be set for the trial of young Decosta, and that the case may be heard in this city rather than Exeter. The larger number of criminal cases and civil cases will be heard at Exeter.

Owing to the fact that the state legislature has begun its session it is the opinion of some of the attorneys connected with cases marked for this session that they will be carried over till tomorrow evening. If reports are true the members do not know yet will hear as many as possible. The question of who is who at city hall will be decided by the city council tomorrow evening. If reports are true the members do not know yet will hear as many as possible. The question of who is who at city hall will be decided by the city council tomorrow evening. If reports are true the members do not know yet will hear as many as possible.

portant Point--Russians
Attacking With Increasing Fury.

(Special to The Herald)

Powerful attacks were delivered by the Russians along the northern end of the eastern front, but all were repulsed according to the war office. The statement says that the Russian assaults have grown much stronger.

Field Marshal Von Mackensen's forces have forced a passage of the Putna river north of Piskulani, the war office reported today. Between Piskulani and Fandeni the Russian and Roumanian forces have driven across the Sechiro river, the officials state, with the capture of more than 1151 prisoners.

On the western front of Moldavia the Russian-Roumanian troops delivered strong attacks in an effort to recapture mountain positions but failed. Their losses were very heavy.

ITALY TO TAKE CARE OF GREECE

Conference of Entente Powers in Rome
Said to Have So Decided

LINER IS RECAPTURED BY BRITISH

(Special to The Herald)

New York, Jan. 10--The Lamport and Holt liner Voltaire, now thirty-nine days overdue, which was believed to have been captured by a German raider, is reported today to have been retaken by the British and conveyed into Bermuda harbor. Word to this effect, from what is said to be an authoritative source was received by the officials of the liner today.

The Voltaire left Liverpool for New York fifty days ago and should have arrived here in ten days, touching at Halifax. After the capture of the Voltaire, it was reported she had been converted into a submarine tender.

(Special to The Herald)

Paris, Jan. 10--Are the Balkan States to become the battlefield upon which the great war will be fought to a finish? This has been made the big question of the hour by the allied counsel in Rome. Declaration has been made since the conference and the fact that General Farrar, commander-in-chief in Macedonia was present, all indicate that the entente is preparing for a tremendous effort against the Germans in that theatre of war. The geographical situation of Italy is such that she can best deal with Greece while the allied armies take care of the others. It is said that Italy will send a strong force into Greece to take care of the continuous menace prevented by King Constantine.

LABOR CAUSES GIVING STIR

Legislature Promptly Blocks Effort for a Special Committee.

Concord, Jan. 9.—The first ripple on the smoothness of legislative proceedings since the opening of the session last Wednesday came this afternoon, when Representative William J. Ahern of Concord, the Democratic Nestor, became suspicious of an apparently innocent resolution offered by Rep. George Allen Putnam of Manchester, Me., after passing the week-end in suggesting that Speaker Morrill be authorized to appoint a special committee of nine members to consider all workmen's compensation bills which may be introduced at this session.

The Putnam resolution merely provided that the speaker should appoint a committee of two lawyers, two insurance men, two employers, two employees and one other, but Ahern looked askance at it and before the speaker could put the question obtained recognition and observed that the procedure was altogether unusual. He asked that reasonable time be given for the consideration of the resolution before action was taken.

"This is an important subject," said Ahern "and one which has been carefully studied by previous judiciary committees including several members of the present judiciary committee. The purpose of this special committee should be explained before the house is asked to vote upon the resolution and I move that it be laid upon the table for future consideration."

The members who had observed all sorts of resolutions go through without a murmur, looked on in surprise, thinking perhaps that Ahern was simply giving them a concrete example of what he and Rep. Couch had a few minutes before been expatiating upon for the information of the new members as to legislative procedure. But they upheld Ahern and the resolution went on the table, Putnam being alone, so far as voice went, in voting against the same.

Following the afternoon session there were several preliminary committee meetings, one of the most largely attended being that of the fish and game committee of the house, held in the office of the fish and game department on the first floor. This was not surprising as fish and game legislation is the popular pastime of the legislature. Commissioner McIntire was present and delivered a brief address on the work of the department, which was mainly in response to questions asked him by the members of the committee. Dr. Ernest Lorne Bell of Plymouth, chairman of the committee, presided.

Tomorrow most of the county delegations will organize to meet after the evening session. Speaker Morrill this morning admonished the members that it was desirable to have the counties organized as early as possible, as there may be bills introduced to be referred. The Manchester delegation already has had two references, both in relation to taxation and indebtedness matters.

The bill-makers have not been so active as at former sessions, unless they are holding back for late introductions. Only 22 bills and eight joint resolutions were introduced in the house today, and Clerk Young at the close of the afternoon session which was adjourned as a mark of respect to the memory of Rep. Patrick McGreevy of Manchester, had only four ready to go through the hopper tomorrow morning. There will be more on hand in all probability, when Speaker Morrill calls to order.

SENATE VOTES CAPITAL DRY

Bill to Abolish Saloons Passes Upper House—Gallinger Voted for Bill.

Washington, Jan. 9.—The Sheppard bill to abolish saloons in the national capital after Nov. 1, 1917, was passed late today by the Senate and now goes to the House, where its friends claim it is assured of passage. The vote in the Senate was 55 to 32.

While the measure prohibits the sale of liquor in the District of Columbia, it permits importation for personal use. An amendment which would have submitted the proposal to a referendum of citizens of the District was defeated just before passage by a tie vote, 43 to 43.

The vote on the passage follows: Ayes—Democrats, Ashurst, Beckham, Bryan, Chamberlain, Clifton, Johnston, of South Dakota; Kern, Kirby, Lea, Martin, Myers, Overman, Pittman, Ransdell, Robinson, Sharoth, Sheppard, Shields, Simmons, Smith of Maryland, Smith of South Carolina, Swanson, Thomas, Thompson, Vardaman, Walsh, Williams—28.

Noes—Democrats, Bankhead, Brandegee, Culleross, Hardwick, Hitchcock, Hughes, Huston, James, Johnson of Maine, Lee, Lewis, Martine, Newlands, O'Gorman, Phelan, Pomeroy, Reed, Sausbury, Smith of Arizona, Stone, Tillman, Underwood—22.

Republicans—Brandegee, Colt, Du Pont, Harding, Lippitt, Lodge, McLean, Penrose, Wadsworth, Weeks—10. Neither the vote on the referendum amendment nor that on the passage of the bill was on party lines. There were 26 Democrats and 17 Republicans voting for the referendum and 22 Democrats and 21 Republicans voting against it. Most of the Republicans of the so-called Progressive group voted against it.

The prohibiting language of the bill says that after Nov. 1 "no person or persons, or any house, company, association, club or corporation, his, its or their agents, officers, clerks or servants, directly or indirectly, shall, in the District of Columbia, manufacture for sale, or gift, import for sale, offer for sale, keep for sale, traffic in, barter, export, ship out of the District of Columbia, or exchange for goods or merchandise, or solicit or receive orders for the purchase of any alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes or for any other than scientific, medicinal, pharmaceutical, mechanical, sacramental or other non-beverage purposes."

All common carriers bringing intoxicants into the District are required to keep a record of the shipper and consignee, who must make affidavit that they are for personal use. "The law declares that no property rights shall exist in alcoholic liquors illegally manufactured and brought into the District makes every place that violates the law a 'common nuisance,' and gives the right to any citizen to sue to enjoin such nuisance."

Heavy penalties are provided for violations, including a provision aimed at physicians who prescribe liquor for patients without a cause.

The vote was preceded by little debate on its terms, but many explanations were given by senators of their reasons for voting for or against the Underwood referendum amendment.

ROUMANIA MAKES PROTEST

Appeals to Neutral Nations That Germany Violates All Rules of War and Humanity.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Official text of the protest addressed by the Roumanian government to neutral representatives at Bucharest and complaining of the violation of "all the laws of war" by Germany arrived in Washington yesterday. The protest was made before the capture of Bucharest by the forces of the central empires.

Subsequently the Roumanian minister for foreign affairs requested neutral diplomats accredited to the Roumanian government to inform their respective governments that Roumania "begs" that such governments "take the necessary steps with the German government in order that the latter may give its military authorities orders, as it is presumed by the Roumanian government that these infractions of the laws of warfare doubtless emanate from the military authorities, to cease these infractions of the laws of warfare and enter into the letter and the spirit of international conventions."

The complete and official text of the Roumanian protest follows: "Since the day Roumania declared herself in a state of war with Austria-Hungary, Bulgarian troops, after having attacked without declaring war, have continued with the assistance of her allies their struggle against Roumania in successfully violating all the laws of war."

"Putting aside for the moment the horrible atrocities committed on the Roumanian troops and population in the Dobruja as well as the employment of means of destruction forbidden by international conventions, not to speak of the manner in which the enemy has carried on the aerial struggle in regard to us, we address ourselves to neutral states to whom devolves under the present circumstances the honor and the duty to raise their voice in favor of the principles of justice and humanity which should guide civilized nations in time of war, and we bring to their knowledge the following:

"German visitors do not cease day or night to throw bombs on the town of Bucharest without having succeeded in producing other results than that more than 250 innocent victims, dead and wounded, of which more than 200 are women and children and among the other victims several invalids and cripples, because more than 55 bombs were thrown on hospitals, almshouses and work houses. This act is repeated almost daily in the different open towns in the country."

"The representatives of foreign powers present in the capital of the kingdom have been in a position to verify this themselves and have doubtless informed their governments."

"In exposing these reiterated violations of the right of war, the Roumanian government believes it has the right to hold Germany directly responsible. In effect it is German aeroplanes which fly over our towns. It is under orders from German commanders that the enemy armies are operating on the two fronts. Therefore, inasmuch as Germany is one of the powers who signed the convention of The Hague which cannot avoid the responsibility which falls on her owing to her contempt of the laws of justice which the international conference set down with a view to reducing to a strict minimum the evils of war in assuring loyalty of fighting in limiting it to belligerent armies, in putting civil populations who are unable to defend themselves, institutions of charity and culture, monuments of art which are the fruit of pacific work of civilization, in shelter from useless destruction from the point of view of the results of war, as well as in the interest of neutral states that this way of making war should be stigmatized by all those who hold in position the veneration of right and respect of treaties."

"For this reason the Roumanian government protested with the strongest energy against the reprehensible acts, which have been above stated, and which in addition on account of their abandonment are of a nature to provoke dangerous counter strokes and to sow amongst the peoples sentiments of hatred and vengeance on which one cannot found anything lasting or useful to humanity."

According to the information laid before the district attorney it was toward the end of 1915 that Thaw first met and became interested in Gump. He had gone to California, following his release here to attend the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco and later went to the southern part of the state, spending some time at Long Beach, Cal., where he met Gump at an ice cream parlor.

Gump's mother and father, Fred Gump, who is said to be a manufacturer of leather and trunks in Kansas City, were with the boy at Long Beach and made no objection to their son's acquaintance with Thaw, the district attorney was informed.

After Thaw left California, he continued to correspond with Gump, according to the information given to the district attorney, Mr. Walsh. These letters, Walsh said, warned the boy not to show them to anyone, but he let his mother read them and she answered them for him. The exchange of letters continued through 1916. Thaw expressing a great interest in the boy's future and a wish to pay for his education abroad.

Although proffers of money by Thaw were refused, the boy at last came to New York and went to Thaw's hotel, where it is alleged the assault took place.

Chief Justice Robert G. Pike of Dover, perhaps the best known, and one of the most highly esteemed members of the legal profession in the state, passed away at his home, Summer street, Dover, on Tuesday evening after a short illness of two weeks. The passing of Justice Pike removes from the Superior bench one of the finest men on that bench, a judge who always tempered justice with mercy, a man well loved and respected by his fellow judges, fellow attorneys and the members of the newspaper profession, to whom he always proved the courteous, kindly, willing tailor.

Chief Justice Pike was born in Rollinsford, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Pike, about sixty-five years ago. He was educated in the public schools and was graduated from Harvard University. He read law in the office of the late Judge Doo of Rollinsford and was admitted to the bar in 1881.

Judge Pike opened a law office in Dover where he practiced until his time was entirely taken up by his duties on the bench, although at the time of his death he maintained this office. He always practiced alone, never having taken a partner nor entered into any firm.

In 1891 he was appointed Judge of Probate for Strafford county and held this office until 1898 when he was appointed to the Supreme Court, Bench for New Hampshire. He sat in this court, the highest tribunal in the state, until 1903 when he was appointed to the Superior bench and ten years later he was made Chief Justice receiving his appointment from Governor Parker in 1913.

Judge Pike has sat on the Superior bench in a number of the terms held in Rockingham County and especially in this city, both before and after he was made Chief Justice. His last big case in this city was on the trial of Mrs. Mary A. Burns of Nottingham for the alleged murder of her husband and from which charge she was acquitted on Thanksgiving Day in 1916. The human strain was strong in Judge Pike and his sympathies were always with the prisoner facing the great odds of the law. On one occasion when hearing cases in this city some years ago Judge Pike was heard by one of the local newspapermen to say, on looking out of the window, "It is too beautiful a day to send anyone to prison," and no man received a jail sentence or prison sentence that day.

Judge Pike, before granting a divorce always made an effort to have the two parties become reconciled and it was not unusual to have him seated in his chambers with a man and woman who a few moments before, were the most bitter enemies, see them settle their differences, and leave the court ready to make another attempt to live together.

Judge Pike never married but lived in his beautiful home in Dover with his only living relative, a sister, who was his housekeeper. His death will be a distinct shock to his large circle of friends for it was entirely unexpected. He was an active man and one who took excellent care of himself. His carriage was as erect as a man fifty years his junior and he bore himself with a quiet dignity which commanded respect without placing himself in a position which repelled one who desired to speak to him. In politics he was a Republican but never sought an office nor would he allow his name to be used as a candidate for any office although he might have had any political gift within the power of the people of the state had he desired it. He will be remembered by many, especially men living in Berwick and its neighborhood, who at one time went to school under his teaching, when as a young man he taught several terms during the time he was studying law. He was compelled to assist his father in order to gain his education, his father having been a school teacher and a man without large means. The death of Judge Pike is a distinct loss to the entire state and he will be mourned by thousands of men and women who knew him by his charitable works and human kindness.

1917 and over the remainder during 1918.

"We find Albert S. Wentworth, conductor, directly responsible for the accident," says the decision.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes any one look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day, it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at any drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have turned tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attack, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

ABOLISHES "CUT" SYSTEM

New Hampshire College Substitutes New Method of Regulating Absences From Classes.

Durham, N. H., Jan. 9.—The abolishment of the "cut" system, for many years in use at New Hampshire college and the substitution of a new system of regulating college attendance was announced today.

The students will now be under the direct authority of their instructors in the various courses. The latter gave the number of absences a student may take by the character of the student's work, which must reach a prescribed standard to earn the cut privilege. Any question arising is referred to the dean of the department.

The student is liable to a $5 fine for cutting the day preceding or following a vacation or a holiday.

$3 OIL.

Pittsburgh.—"Three-dollar oil" arrived today. Pennsylvania shot above that mark with an increase of 10 cents a barrel to $3.05. Other grades went up 8 cents, except England, up 3.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Hair becomes charming, wavy, lustrous and thick in few moments.

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

For 25 cents you can save your hair. In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying Danderrine.

Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderrine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderrine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Danderrine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

NOTES OF THE SPORTS

New York, Jan. 10.—Run your eyes over the first basing records of the National League for 1916 and you will discover the name of a young gent who is very likely to make all candidates for 1917 honors sleep lively.

The youth in question is "Hawk" Holke, of the Giants.

The records show that Holke played in about thirty-five full games. They also show that he was a bear with the stick and a glutton for accepting chances. He had any other player backed off the map in thirty-five games, and the figures indicate that he has the makings of a star.

McGraw is enthusiastic over Holke, and whenever the Little Napoleon of baseball enthusiasms there is a reason. Several years ago when Holke went to Marlin with the Giants for Spring training he did not look so very good at the bat. He was then a right-handed hitter, and McGraw opined that he was an awful green one. Later he was sent to Rochester under John Gansel, and although he had tried to bat from the port side of the plate, Gansel had him batting right-handed again. The Fall of 1916 found Holke among the intezing in the draft, but McGraw kept an eye on him.

Last year Holke again took up the fork-hand hitting and late in the season he was called in by the Giants and McGraw sent Fred Merkle to the Dodgers. Holke was hitting left-handed, but he batted from a crouching position, which is considered bad form. McGraw advised Holke to stand up straight and try swinging at 'em without the crouch. Holke, always a willing youngster, took Mac's advice, and the result was that he started hammering the old ball on the nose. His fielding was greatly improved and he showed up well as an all-around player. He played a big share in helping the Giants win twenty-six straight games for a new world's record, and he is coming back again in the Spring to help them fight for a championship.

Tal Chase, Jake Daubert and other crack first sackers in the National league will have to travel at a fast pace if Holke keeps up his stride. He's a forty-two centimetre ball player, if we are to believe in McGraw's judgment.

The Cubs are going to get the benefit of learning and welding together the choicest scraps of baseball wisdom from two great schools in the National League—the Stalling school and the McGraw school.

With Fred Mitchell at the helm—and remember that Mitchell was high chief adviser of the Stallings outfit—Chicago's Bruins will no doubt be taught some brand new ideas in the gentle art of playing ball. And if Larry Doyle is made captain of the team, which seems a certainty now that his leg has mended, the influence of long experience under McGraw is bound to infect itself into the Chicago club.

Combining the best little baseball strategy of the Braves and Giants with Mitchell's knowledge of the pastime ought to be a big help to Chicago. No doubt the opening of the 1917 season will find the Cubs a better organized team, with new life and new-born ambitions to go after the pennant.

The Western teams of the National circuit certainly need shaking up, and the Cubs are going to get it from stem to stern.

Harold Janvrin, utility star of the world's champion Red Sox, is going to be highly honored in Boston January 15 with a monster banquet. Admiring fans have been planning the details of the affair for weeks, and there will be many celebrities around the festive board. Will Bill Donovan, who never misses a chance to strap on the feed bag, if he can possibly be present, is to be among the guests.

The annual motorboat show, to be held in New York at the Grand Central Palace, Jan. 27 to Feb. 3, is expected to attract widespread interest this year. Last year the fair was V-type motors of high speed, but this year the yachtsmen are leaning toward moderate speed and staying qualities in yachts, as they want boats which will withstand all sorts of weather. Many new models, especially designed for coast patrol duty, will be shown this year.

ANOTHER "LITTLE MARY SUNSHINE"

"Little Mary Sunshine," a recent Pathe Gold Rooster play, has duplicated the success it made here wherever it has been shown. The chubby, dimpled face of filmland's "bluest leading lady" has caught the public fancy to such an extent that theatre managers have been petitioned by their patrons for more pictures in which she appears.

In consequence, J. A. Berst, vice-president and general manager of Pathe, has contracted with the Balboa Company for the exclusive services of the child in forthcoming Gold Rooster Plays.

Her next appearance under the Pathe banner will be in "Shadows and Sunshine," a delightful little photoplay by D. F. Whitcomb, author of "Little Mary Sunshine." The splendid supporting cast includes Lucy Peyton, Daniel Giffether and Mollie McConnell. "Shadows and Sunshine" will be shown at the Colonial Theatre Friday and Saturday of this week.

The members of the Portsmouth Lodge of Moose have decided the only way to decide the question is by an open contest of the two counties to be open to all.

TEETH MARKS SAVE BOY FROM ARMS OF LAW.

New York, Jan. 9.—Because he was able to point out a ticket in the box with teeth marks on it, a bundle-laden boy escaped arrest in the subway today. The ticket chopper was about to hand him over to a policeman, despite his protests, when the lad managed to prove he had spat his ticket into the receptacle. In the course of the argument untold numbers of other travelers skidded through the gateway without putting in their tickets.

TAINED BY HIS FRIENDS IN HONOR OF HIS ANNIVERSARY

On Tuesday evening, in honor of the eighty-second anniversary of his birth Mr. Joseph Doolittle was the guest of Miss Alice Milder, Mrs. Abbie Wheaton Waters, and Miss Ruth Wheaton Waters at the home of Mrs. Waters. Although Mr. Doolittle was the guest of honor he proved himself an able entertainer, for the feastable was enlivened by his relation of interesting and pathetic incidents of the battles of the Civil War in which he took part, and by recollections of Winchester, N. H., where both he and Mrs. Waters went to school. After tea Mrs. Waters recited with unusual feeling several poems which he committed to memory many years ago. Mr. Doolittle cut his own birthday cake, and blew out all the candles at the first attempt. His many friends will join his hostesses in the hearty wish that he may enjoy many more anniversaries.

Prejudice Against Corporations.

That there is a prejudice against corporations which places them at a disadvantage when involved in law cases has been a matter of common knowledge for some years. This prejudice has become so prevalent and pronounced that corporations will in many cases make settlements of claims against them on terms absolutely unjust to themselves rather than take their chances before juries, which in numerous cases render verdicts against them that are not at all in keeping with the facts and the evidence.

A remarkable case is reported from Indiana, where a railroad company was sued for damages by the widow of a man who died of pneumonia, the claim being set up that he contracted the cold which led to the disease while riding on one of the company's trains. It will have to be admitted that it would be a difficult matter to prove just where one takes cold, but the jury in this case stood by the plaintiff and rendered a verdict for $6,000. A few years ago a street railway company was presented with a small claim for damages. The claimant offered to settle for less than $100, but the company felt that the claim was unjust and refused to settle. A law suit followed in which the company was beaten, and the verdict and costs aggregated in the neighborhood of $3,000.

It is not difficult to understand this prejudice against corporations, nor does it take the observant and fair-minded man long to perceive that it has been allowed to go altogether too far. Corporations are commonly, but erroneously, supposed to have no souls. They are believed by the unthinking to have huge chests of money, so huge that it makes little difference to them how severely they are bled by plaintiffs and juries. In a law suit between an individual and a corporation the former is apt to be regarded as the under dog, no matter what the facts in the case, and human sympathy is naturally with the under dog.

Nevertheless juries are under oath to perform one of the most solemn and responsible duties of citizenship, and neither sympathy nor prejudice should ever be permitted to sway them from the path of absolute justice. A corporation is as much entitled to justice as the most humble citizen, but it is notorious that in many cases they fail to receive it. Palpably unjust verdicts mean serious trouble sooner or later, regardless of whom the verdicts may be for or against.

The national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic is to be held in Boston next August and the city is already planning to entertain the veterans in a manner to leave no doubt of the cordiality of their welcome. All of which is highly proper. There is not a city in the country that does not consider it an honor to entertain this great annual gathering of men who helped to save the Union from dissolution.

The shortage of coal has been delaying the sailing of transatlantic liners from New York or late. This is a serious matter, yet not so serious as the burden the people of the country have been bearing for many months. It is high time that the coal monopoly was ripped from stem to stern, and if there is power in the country to do this it ought to be applied without delay.

Billy Sunday is not the only one who is stirring the depths in Boston. Another preacher in that city so wrought upon his congregation Sunday night that many of the members adopted the old Indian custom of dropping all grudges at the end of the year and forgiving all their enemies. It is to be hoped this determination will stand longer than do many New Year's resolutions.

A federal grand jury that has been probing the food situation in Chicago has been unable to unearth any combinations for the boosting of prices. But the country is not yet convinced that food prices at the present time are governed strictly by the law of supply and demand.

The different brands of socialists are said to be unable to get together. There must be more socialism than sociability in their ranks. But then, there are other parties that are not immune to afflictions of this character betimes.

There is a movement on foot among the universities to make Washington the center of education in this country. It is already the center of certain kinds of education of which at times it seems as if there was too much.

There was a slight falling off in the number of lynchings in the country last year, and yet there were 54 more of these barbarous affairs than there ought to have been.

TRouble IN THE TEMPLE OF ISRAEL

Injunction Served on President to Prevent Members Voting at Meeting.

After a week of friction between the members of the Jewish society, The Temple of Israel, which at times has threatened to make a division among the Jewish people, the argument has at last been finally handed to the court to settle.

Last night Deputy Sheriff Shaw served a temporary injunction on Abraham Shapiro and three other officers of the Temple of Israel, restraining them from recognizing or allowing to vote certain so-called members of the society.

The injunction was secured by Atty. W. B. Marvin for Harry Cohen and others and in their plea for the injunction they alleged that there were people who claimed to belong to the Temple of Israel who were not members and should not be allowed to vote.

Acting upon the advice of their attorney, Judge Thomas H. Stimes, President Shapiro put the matter of membership up to the members of the society, who are the only judges of who is who in the Temple.

The trouble which has been brewing has resulted in two schools being formed and it is expected that the matter will finally be thrashed out by the court.

WILL PLAY IN DOVER.

Manager March has made another shift in his basket ball plans for tomorrow night and instead of playing the Portland Independents, he will have as an attraction Helme Cragen's fast Portsmouth Professionals. Just what the line up Cragen's team will be, we cannot state, but Helme never goes out of town for any game in any sport with a poor team, but always gets the best that money can get. Manager March will have a new team on the floor tomorrow night in Doc Bell and John Hendon of the State college, Frank Flynn and Price of Springvale and Archie Horne of Wolfboro. The fans will know what this means. It means a basket ball game to the finish.—Dover Democrat.

NOT YET SATISFIED.

Sheriff George L. Stearns of Hillsboro County has announced that he would petition the court for a review of the ballot paid to be defective and in dispute and which were cast for the sheriff at the last election. His opponent, John T. O'Dowd, was declared elected by a margin of 29 votes, and a recount, or inspection as it is called under the law, reduced Mr. O'Dowd's lead to 15.

Editorial Comment

Colleges Should Make Men

(From the Minneapolis Journal)
Football is fine exercise—for those who are on the squad. It furnishes little exercise for those who sit in the stands and root for the team. Basketball is a lively game—for those who are on the quint. Those who merely cheer the quint, in victory or defeat, get very little exercise out of it.

The members of the track team grow lithe and lusty with their running, jumping and hurling. They are the pick of the student body for athletic ability, and they are trained and tended accordingly. The flabby, anemic chap gets little attention from anybody and is permitted to go through college with a minimum of physical development.

These conditions obtain more or less generally in all our higher educational institutions. The physically fit are chosen to represent the school in athletic contests, while the physically unfit may take it out in rooting. Major F. E. Pierce of the Army War College declared, in an address before the National Collegiate Athletic Association, that "compulsory physical training should be introduced into all of our institutions of learning." He was speaking of the relation of college athletics to national preparedness and urged a course of training running through the whole curriculum and rated among the most important subjects taught.

Major Pierce had charge of some three thousand college students at the Plattsburg military training camp last summer. The physical condition of these young men he declares as "pathetic." It spoke volumes of "the startling inefficiency of methods, employed in our colleges to train the bodies of our students, if any are employed at all. Yet these young men were drawn from institutions that rank athletically—if turning out successful teams be considered a criterion—second to none."

Not only should physical training be made compulsory, but great emphasis should be laid upon it. Here is a compulsion to which even the most inveterate pacifist cannot object, even though one of its by-products would be a suitable foundation for the preparedness of military training. Its best product would be healthier and happier college graduates.

Revamping a Constitution

(From the Topeka Capital)
A revision of the state constitution probably is desirable. But if it is attempted at this time every snake doctor in the state will try to incorporate his favorite remedy in it, and the chances are that he will succeed in doing so.

Starting at the Beginning

(From the New York World)
On the theory, perhaps, that it is always best to tackle the biggest job first, the Pope has renewed his efforts in behalf of church unity. With that accomplished, it might be possible to address Christian nations on the subject of peace without being made a victim of assault and battery.

The Plates Are Like "Flippers"

(From the Springfield Union)
The new Massachusetts number plates for motor vehicles illustrate the tendency exhibited in so many directions these days to make things as cheap as possible, regardless of quality. Not only is the metal of which they are made too thin, but the enameling is wretchedly poor both in respect to color and smoothness of application. As for the numerals, the eye does not catch them readily, which is a doubtful advantage for the plates' possessors, although something to be appreciated, perhaps, by those who violate the rules of the road.

THAW KEEPING AWAY FROM POLICE

(Special to The Herald)
Pittsburgh, Jan. 10.—Harry K. Thaw is somewhere in the east. Stephen Stone his local attorney, after a long conference with members of the Thaw family and business associates, issued a statement in which he declared that Thaw is not in Pittsburgh. "He is in the east somewhere and not in hiding and I expect that he will communicate with me. One thing I am sure of is that he is innocent of these latest accusations and the charges will fall flat when the facts are known."

(Special to The Herald)

New York, Jan. 10.—The hunt for Harry K. Thaw, on again after his year and a half of freedom—was extended today to all the principal cities of the east. He is evading arrest, detectives say, with all his old-time skill. Thaw is wanted in New York to answer an indictment charging him with abducting Frederick Gump, Jr., a Kansas City high school boy whom he became friendly with on the Pacific coast. The boy charges that Thaw entered him into coming to New York and then beat him with a whip in a secluded room in a Broadway hotel.

NO CHANGE IN PEACE PLANS

Washington Awaits the Answer of the Entente Powers.

Washington, Jan. 10.—With no word yet, when the entente reply to the Wilson peace note will be received, the peace situation is far as Washington is concerned remained at a standstill today. There has been no change in the intention of the government to make any move before the answer is received.

EMILY STEVENS

In the "Unchastened Woman" in its Third Week at Ye Wilbur Theatre, Boston

Next week at Ye Wilbur Theatre, Oliver Morosco is to present, beginning with the Monday evening performance, January 15, a new star, Miss Emily Stevens, in a serious modern comedy by Louis K. Anspacher, called "The Unchastened Woman," for the third week at this theatre in Boston.

For seven months Miss Stevens and "The Unchastened Woman" have been at the Thirty-Ninth Street Theatre, New York city, where both play and star scored tremendously. Mr. Anspacher in the central figure of "The Unchastened Woman" has taken a type which, while a rare one, unquestionably exists today the world over—a thoroughly selfish, morally correct, but mentally a vicious woman. The character is described as being a distinctly unsympathetic one, but it is also said that Miss Stevens' portrayal is well nigh flawless. Sympathy, she does not look for. She apparently revels in the numerous shocks her lines give her audience. Her performance is said to be uncommonly brilliant. There are two settings in the play which is presented in three acts, and both are artistic. With two exceptions the supporting company is identical with that supporting Miss Stevens during the long run of the play at the Thirty-ninth Street Theatre, New York, including H. Reeves Smith, Malcolm Duncan, Howard Hall, Jennie Lamont, Isabel Richards, Frances Underwood and Lillian Kemble Cooper. Matinees are given on Wednesday and Saturday.

"HEARTS OF ERIN"

Latest Victor Herbert and Henry Blossom Romantic Comedy Opera at Shubert Theatre, Boston

Of all those writing for the light opera stage in America today none have given more pleasure to audiences than Victor Herbert and Henry Blossom, particularly when they are working together.

In the broad sense of its meaning the assembly of Herbert and Blossom can be dated to the time when they wrote "The Red Mill" for Montgomery and Stone, although they both had written many excellent plays of a similar light and gay quality during the preceding two years.

Following "The Red Mill" came the bright and fascinating airs, duets, waltzes, ensembles, etc., of "Milk and Molasses" and "The Prima Donna," both written for and sung by Mme. Fritz Scheff.

It was after "The Prima Donna" that they found new associates, and although they were able to pursue their divided ways with more or less success, they did not meet with the same fortune as when they were working together. It was clearly evident that of all the authors, it was Blossom more than any of the others who possessed the real lyrical knack which was sure to strike fire to the Herbert musical imagination. After several years away from each other, it was Joe Webber who brought them together when they collaborated on "The Only Girl," three years ago. Now it is the same little comedian manager who will produce what is said to be the most ambitious of their writings, a romantic comic opera entitled "Hearts of Erin," for the first time in Boston at the Shubert Theatre, beginning next Monday evening, January 15th, for a limited engagement with the usual matinees. The brilliant company of 100 is headed by Vernon Siles, a tenor of wonderful reputation. It has been arranged that Victor Herbert himself will personally conduct the Symphony Orchestra of 35 musicians at the opening performance.

GRACE GEORGE

In Bernard Shaw's "Major Barbara"—3rd Week Begins at Plymouth Theatre, next Monday, Jan. 15.

Grace George will begin the third week of her engagement at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, next Monday night, Jan. 15, offering "Major Barbara" by Bernard Shaw. Miss George has been most successful as an actress-manager, and of the various plays that she has presented, "Major Barbara" has been the most popular. Miss George introduced this Shaw play in America last year at the Playhouse, and consequently this is its first introduction to Boston.

Miss George, after years of stardom in a variety of plays, took a long step forward last year in becoming her own manager, and she accomplished so much in the one year that now she occupies a distinct place in the American theatre. Her unique accomplishment is that of occupying a theatre in New York for an entire year with her own company, presenting a series of plays much above the average, and winning popular success with them. Miss George and her company remained at the Playhouse from September through to the first of May, becoming famous in that time as one of the best acting organizations in the history of the American theatre.

"Major Barbara," the Shaw play which was best received during Miss George's season, created considerable discussion because of the character of a munition magnate in it, and the conflict over rights and wrongs of manufacturing war supplies. Miss George herself plays the part of the magnate's daughter, who endeavors to win him away by Salvation Army methods.

Miss George has in preparation for presentation in the near future Sir James Barrie's "Half an Hour" and Victorien Sardou's "Divorçons."

UNFAVORABLE REPORT IS EXPECTED

Rules Committee of Congress Against Further Investigation of "Leak."

Washington, Jan. 10.—At the close of the executive session of the House Rules committee it was learned that the majority of members are opposed to a favorable report upon the Wood resolution asking a congressional investigation of the alleged leak to Wall Street. It is regarded by them that no evidence of a conclusive character showing where or how the leak might be discovered and checked for the future has been shown the rule committee. The democratic member take the position that all public officials who have been mentioned have been exonerated from all suspicion of responsibility for the leak. A probable compromise will be the appointment of a committee to try and get from Lawson the names of members of congress, senate and cabinet whom he claims profited.

RUSSIAN PREMIER RESIGNS

Another Upset in the Russian Government.

London, Jan. 10.—The Russian Premier Alexander Trepoff, has resigned. According to the Russian correspondent at Petrograd, both Premier Trepoff and Count Ignatieff, Minister of Public Instruction, have resigned.

Prince Goltzino a senator and member of the council of the empire, has been appointed premier.

Senator Kutshitsky has been appointed minister of public instruction. Mr. Neratoff, deputy foreign minister, has been appointed a member of the Council of the Empire.

Alexander Feodorovich Trepoff succeeded Boris V. Sturmer in the Premiership in November, 1916, his appointment being regarded as a victory for public opinion against so-called "unjust influences."

Soon after taking office Premier Trepoff made his famous speech in the Duma, in which he declared that the Entente Allies had agreed to the Russian claim to Constantinople and the Straits. The existence of this agreement had been for a long time alleged but never before had it been thus publicly and formally admitted.

During Premier Trepoff's incumbency there has been much dissension among the members of the Duma and the obstructionist movement of some of the members was marked by somewhat serious demonstrations.

RAILROADS HOLD INTEREST

Congress to Pass Laws Making Railroad Strikes Impossible.

(Special to The Herald)

Washington, Jan. 10.—The railroad situation was still in the foreground in congress and the supreme court. With the railroad trying to break down the Adamson law before the supreme court, administration leaders made all possible haste to strengthen legislation to avert a railroad strike.

Argument of the text of the Adamson law before the supreme court will be concluded by the government. It is expected that the court will make an effort to hand down an early decision. Labor leaders continued to testify against President Wilson's strike prevention measure before the house committee. In the house, Representative Adamson renewed his efforts to have his omnibus railroad bill taken up.

KITTERY

In the Kittery court Tuesday evening, the case of Maurice Parker of Kittery, which had been continued from the morning session was disposed of. Mr. Parker had been examined during the day by Drs. H. J. Durgin of Eliot and E. E. Shapleigh of Kittery, and they reported to the municipal officers that he was not insane. An agreement had been made between Mr. Parker and his brother whereby he was to return home for a while or until he could go to Amesbury, Mass., to work and the project of hiring a place separately and living alone was given up, as he promised. The charge of disorderly conduct or breach of the peace, under which he was arrested was not pressed by Judge Shaw. Mr. Parker gave Mr. Hussey of the board of selectmen to understand that he wanted to go to Amesbury to work as soon as possible, and as he is a good workman, will probably have no further trouble. A loaded revolver was turned over to Judge Shaw, the costs were paid and the young man discharged. It is not felt that there will be any further trouble in this case, as Mr. Parker has been of good character, and with a change in living conditions is expected to again become useful to himself and to the community.

Frank Metcalf of Portland who said he was a dyer, was locked up Tuesday evening by Deputy Sheriff Boardman for intoxication on Government street. Metcalf had lost all his money in Dover, had walked to Portsmouth and claimed to be on his way home, where he said he had a wife and child. He was given a sentence of 30 days in jail by Judge Shaw and the sentence suspended on condition that he start for home at once, which he promised to do.

DR. SWAIN TELLING INTERESTING LESSONS

Dr. Richard L. Swain started his audience at the North Church last evening in the third of his remarkable series of six lectures when he answered the question, "Does Man Have a Soul?" In the narrative, he went on to explain, however, that the reason man did not have a soul was that he was himself a soul. The sub-questions taken up during his talk under the question of the evening were "Who is Man and what is his place in the universe?" "Would the absence of Man cripple God?" "What could an infinite God care about such a little speck?" "Is not God the best religion there is?"

The course which Dr. Swain is giving is gaining very noticeable increase in interest. It is evident that many people are thinking and wondering about the very things he is expounding, and this is doubtless because they are the great fundamental problems of life itself. His subject last night was "Does Man Have a Soul?"

He said that he would define man in the same terms as he had defined God: as "loving, intelligent will." Whenever a man ceases to be a loving, intelligent will, he falls below the level of manhood.

Dr. Swain was asked how his system of thought differed from Pantheism, and he replied that the center of his thought of God and man was personal, which pantheists deny. For him, personally is the most to which the rights of a universe are fastened.

Man is taking on the whole universe as his augmented body. Man needed more soul growth than his hand would allow and he got a club, then a stone instrument, then tools of various sorts. Now the great thundering mills in our cities are nothing but the great hands of man's will. There is no soul growth without bodily growth.

Man needed more legs, and he invented the steam engine and automobile. In order to extend the development of his muscular instrument he added to the powers of the mouth the tom-tom, until he now has a whole orchestra to express the music in his soul. He extended his ear through the telephone, the eye through the telescope and microscope. Every child of God is thus increasing the possibilities of his spirit life. In quest of omnipresence, he is making the phenomenal universe the instrument of his will. If God did not intend to have a family we can think of no use for His existence, it was said. What is the sense of God's taking ages to store the earth with coal, precious metals, iron, etc., if he did not intend His children to use these things? In order that there may be wisdom in what God is doing in the universe He must have had a family in mind. Otherwise God is only a child, playing with a toy-world. This conception of Him would be absolutely unworthy of Him. God cannot fulfill His love or His purpose without a family.

Dr. Swain spoke of the expanded notion of man which comes with appropriation these larger ideas. Just as a man in an overcoat feels as large as the circumference of the coat, or a woman is conscious of herself clear to the tips of her fluttering ribbons, so man takes to himself this larger universe he expands his whole nature and becomes more like God.

"The question 'Is Socialism the best religion?'" Dr. Swain answered in the affirmative, if by it you mean the kingdom of God, the realm of brotherly love, the fair deal, cooperation, the becoming one in a great family of God's children. For this, he said, is the only religion there is. Being a Christian is seeing this kingdom and having a mighty affection and loyalty for it.

Heaven is not a pretty place off somewhere where God is going to put some men, and from which he will exclude others. The only heaven there is is a society organized around the will of God. If ever there is such a heaven men must find it by doing. God's will. Some people are looking for a heaven without a kingdom and there isn't any. The kingdom of heaven must first make a heaven.

"Tonight he will take up the question 'Does God Have a Body?'" "Was Jesus God—or a good man only?" "Can Modern psychology any longer believe in the deity of Jesus?" "Where does he belong in the social and religious and through world?"

The lecture tonight starts at 7:30 o'clock and the public is cordially invited.

FILES IMPORTANT BILLS IN THE LEGISLATURE

Concord, Jan. 9.—The house assembled at 11 o'clock this forenoon and prayer was offered by the Rev. Chellis W. Smith of Plinston. A large number of house bills and joint house resolutions were introduced, ordered to be printed and referred to committees.

The speaker made the following appointment of house pages: Howard E. Nelson, Portsmouth; Raymond W. Carter, Moultonborough; John Ross, Nashua; Maurice Stekney, Manchester; and Edson J. Minah, Franklin. The speaker's page is Joseph W. Lane of Concord.

The speaker announced the following committee on the apportionment of taxes:

Thomas of Farmington; Davis of Milrow, Tilton; Halgh of Salem, Duffy of Franklin; Hoyt of Hanover, Philbrook of Shelbourne; Farley of Manchester, Philbrick of Springfield, and Blanchard of Sandwich.

There are four candidates for chaplain. A meeting of the committee appointed to recommend a chaplain was held this afternoon. Various meetings have been called for the organization of county delegations for Wednesday and Thursday next.

A resolution was offered this morning, providing for a committee of five members to be appointed by the speaker to consider the matter of salaries paid to state officials.

The first committee meeting of the session was held at 1:30 o'clock by the committee on insurance.

A bill was introduced appropriating $300 for the establishing of a fish screen at the outlet of Montgomery stream in Whitefield.

A bill was introduced by Col. John H. Bartlett of Portsmouth, providing that in a contract relating to labor nine hours of actual work shall be taken as a day's work unless otherwise agreed upon by the parties. This bill changes the hours of labor from ten hours to nine hours, as provided in Sect. 29, Chap. 180, of the Public Statutes.

Colonel Bartlett of Portsmouth also introduced another bill, providing for workmen's compensation, where the claim does not exceed $100.

All employers of labor shall be liable for all loss of time, according to wages, physician, nursing and medicine, on account of an injury received by an employee in any one accident and to an amount not exceeding $100. The following exceptions are made:

First.—That the employee was acting within the scope of his employment when the accident was received.

Second.—That such injuries were not deliberately self-inflicted for the purpose of recovering damages.

Third.—That they were not caused by intoxication.

Fourth.—That the employee injured must give notice to his employer not later than thirty days after the injury.

Fifth.—Such claim for damages may be entered for notice in any municipal court in any county where the accident happened.

The bill of cost to be fixed by law. Representative Chaffin of Manchester handed in three bills last night. One is to raise the debt limit of Manchester from three to five per cent of the valuation, four per cent to be available at all times and one per cent to be held in reserve for emergencies. According to the terms of this bill the taxes on polls and property are not to exceed $17 on $1000, this being an increase from thirteen dollars as at present provided.

At the last session of the legislature two years ago Representative Ernest A. Merrill presented a similar bill which was defeated in the Manchester delegation.

The second bill was one to encourage and promote military instruction among the citizens of the state and to permit military instruction in the public schools.

The third was a joint resolution appropriating $25,000 for a monument upon the battlefield of Gettysburg.

Senator Joseph B. Perley of Enfield achieved the distinction of introducing the first bill in the senate, which provides for the better protection of bank checks. The bill is a copy of the Vermont law and provides that if any person makes, draws, utters or delivers any check, draft or order for the payment of money upon any bank or other depository, having, at the time of such making, insufficient funds or credit for making payment, shall be liable in an action based on this act, to the person injured thereby; and for want of property the body of the person making, drawing, uttering or delivering such check, draft or order shall be attached.

BEST LIVER AND BOWEL LAXATIVE FOR FAMILY USE

"Cascarets" regulate women, men and children without injury.

Take when bilious, headachy, for colds, bad breath, sour stomach.

Instead of nasty, harsh pills, salts, castor oil or dangerous calomel, why don't you keep Cascarets handy in your home? Cascarets act on the liver and thirty feet of bowels so gently you don't realize you have taken a cathartic, but they act thoroughly and can be depended upon when a good liver and bowel cleansing is necessary—they move the bile and poison from the bowels without griping and sweeten the stomach. You eat one or two at night like candy and you wake up feeling fine, the headache, biliousness, bad breath, coated tongue, sour stomach, constipation, or bad cold disappears. Mothers should give cross, sick, feverish or bilious children a whole Cascaret any time—they are harmless and safe for the little folks.

REPRESENTATIVE WOOD OF IND.

Representative William R. Wood of Indiana told the Rules Committee of the House of Representatives, Friday, Jan. 5, what he knew about the alleged stock deals said to have grown from interviews of Secretary of State Lansing and President Wilson's peace note Dec. 21. A letter he read, signed "A. Curtis," and purporting to come from a Wall Street broker, mentioned Barney M. Harnisch, a well-known speculator on the New York Stock Exchange. The letter also said Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, had eaten breakfast with Baruch at the Biltmore Hotel, in New York, about the time of the note and interviews.

Mr. Wood asked that Otto H. Kahn, member of the big firm of Kahn, Loeb & Co., be subpoenaed to tell if he had advance information about the notes.

PAUL POEHLER GETS EARLY LEAD Match With Nute of Manchester a Close Affair.

Paul Poehler of Charlestown, last night won the first leg of his match with Harold Nute of Manchester, N. H., for the candlepin championship.

The second and final ten string was held in Manchester, N. H., tomorrow night and Poehler will carry a lead of 11 pins when he goes to Manchester.

The match was a most exciting one and while higher ten string sets have been rolled, few events ever produced better bowling, for the Charlestown team had rolled the first set in the world to get big scores on Poehler's total for the ten strings was 1018, while Nute hit 1034.

A big crowd was on hand for the event. It was a slow start but Poehler soon forged ahead and at the end of the third string it looked as if the Dutchman would have an easy time with a lead of 81 pins. Nute then began to cut down the handicap and the fanfare for the Granite State displayed plenty of enthusiasm.

Poehler at the end of the third had a lead of 51 pins. It was 58 on the fourth, his largest margin. Nute then began to slowly cut it down, and at the end of the eighth Poehler had but 12 pins left. Poehler made it 17 on the ninth, but on the tenth it dropped to 11. The scores:

Poehler—99, 105, 135, 102, 103, 103, 101, 98, 106, 96—1048.

Nute—92, 89, 107, 95, 108, 101, 121, 118, 107, 99—1031.

ALLIES SEND ULTIMATUM TO GREEK KING

DEMAND IMMEDIATE COMPLIANCE WITH ALL REQUESTS FOR DISARMAMENT.

London, Jan. 9.—The Greek situation approached another climax today. The Times declared the allies' conference in Rome formulated and dispatched another note to Greece—this time equivalent to an ultimatum, demanding compliance with all previous requests as to disarmament and neutrality within 48 hours.

Dispatches from Athens indicated that King Constantine is once again playing for time, having returned another answer to the original allied demand which was said to be an "evasive" reply. In it the King was reported to have listed the difficulties in the way of immediate compliance with the entente's demands.

Other dispatches from Greece today indicated serious food shortage, due to continuance of the allies' strict blockade of Greece. King Constantine personally set the example to his people by applying for and receiving a bread card. A number of small riots, due to food shortage, as well as demonstrations against the entente by Greek reservists were reported from Piræus, the port of Athens.

Berlin Admits Russian Gains South of Riga.

Berlin, via Sayville wireless, Jan. 9.—A Russian attack, made in a dense snow storm, recaptured the small island of Chaudon, north of Riga, taken from them by German forces Jan. 4, to day's official statement said in describing the fighting south of Riga.

Renewed advances on both sides of the Aa river were completely repulsed, the statement asserted. Night advances of Russian raiding detachments between Friedland and the road from Mitau to Olat were unsuccessful. Capture of Galeska (Houmanaf) was announced. The town was taken by storm in hand-to-hand fighting and successfully maintained against all night attacks.

Yesterday's booty taken by the advancing German forces totaled 95 officers and 5400 men of other ranks, with three cannon and 10 machine guns.

of the war, Emperor Charles's order to the army, informing the soldiers that the entente had refused to accept the central powers' peace offer, is accepted as final, and editorial comment is confined to pointing out that the only course left is to maintain the struggle with the country's maximum effort.

No results are expected from the allies' reply to President Wilson's note, and, as far as the newspapers are concerned, the chapter of the present peace efforts is considered closed.

Russian Offensive on Riga Front Continues.

London, Jan. 9.—Russia's thrust on the Riga front assumed the importance of continued offensive today. It has already gained considerable ground against the German columns and was apparently proceeding today with extraordinary violent fighting.

It is along the reaches of the Aa river, apparently, that the most bitter fighting is proceeding. Russian forces have made a distinct advance in this section. Artillery firing has increased violently all along this line.

PAVLOVA'S LAST TWO WEEKS AT THE HIPPODROME

Charles Dillingham has prepared to make the coming two weeks at the Hippodrome a series of notable performances since they signalize the final appearance in the programme of the "Big Show" of Anna Pavlova, the greatest of all dancers who ends her long engagement at the big playhouse on Saturday, January 20th and will not be seen in America again for two years. During this fortnight Pavlova will present a series of special dances selected by request from her own favorite creations. On Monday she has selected for her own numbers the "Pizzicato" by Delibes, a new dance to a Strauss waltz and Lincke's "Gavotte Pavlova" while her ballet principals and coryphées will execute a last "Rhapsodie Hongroise"; a Polka by Puri and the Bohemian dance by Minkus.

All the other extraordinary features of the composite programme with its subplots, turning from black to white; the song revue; the comedy features; and the remarkable ballet on real ice, "The Merry Doll" are still retained, and in each, as is the Hippodrome new novelties are introduced weekly. Matinees are given daily.

Charles Dillingham announces that Anna Pavlova, the incomparable dancer ends her engagement at the Hippodrome with the expiration of her twenty weeks' contract which expires on Saturday evening next. On Feb. 13 Anna Pavlova and her ballet Russe including Alexander Volinine, Steffa Plaskovietzka, Slasia Kuhn and ballet with Ivan Clustine at ballet master and Theodore Stier as musical director, depart from New York for Havana for a tour which will include Cuba and then embrace a South American engagement for the first time in her career.

DANGERS OF NARROW ROADS

What is more expounding than to meet a heavily loaded wagon in a narrow, steep, rocky road without room to turn out? If you have the lighter vehicle it is "up to you" to back out and give the other fellow the right of way, especially if he is the "bigger" man.

Sometimes in endeavoring to squeeze past you run into an obstruction and either upset or break some part of the rig. Both courses are dangerous, and more especially so if you happen to be driving a young skittish team instead of the old family "mare." Not long ago the photographer who was taking the moving pictures for the new Du Pont "Road Building" film had set up his camera with a view of showing a short section of a narrow, rocky road. At that moment along came a boy pushing a bicycle followed by two men in a buggy. The horse became frightened and in endeavoring to turn out for the boy ran over a large boulder, tipping both men out and breaking the buggy.

The photographer, being a true "movie" man seized the opportunity to run four films on a "scene." Fortunately no one was hurt, and the film was such a good illustration of the results of bad roads that it was incorporated into the body of the "Road Building" film.

No one who has seen this film, which is an education in road building in itself, can remain a passive non-supporter of the good roads movement. It contains scenes taken from actual construction, and shows the improvement and conversion by the best and most modern methods of our worst roads into the various types of smooth hard surfaced, easily traveled highways.

The Du Pont Company, always an ardent supporter of public movements, has made this film with a view of loaning it to responsible parties for showing at meetings of all kinds having for their objects the aiding of good roads.

German Peace Offer Due to Fear of Famine, He Says

Charles R. Flint, banker and merchant, with wide international relations and experience, believes from information in his possession that the peace offer made by Germany was due to the fear of famine. He said that while Germany has highly developed agriculture it has been by means of fertilizers. These cannot be made without nitrate, which the Germans cannot now import from Chile. One result has been the decrease of the potato crop by 40 per cent. of normal production.

A GOOD MAN ON THE JOB

A visit to the Dover police station during the hours of duty assigned to Captain Dan Murray will convince one that the department of that town has an officer who certainly is heartily interested in his work. The finger print system and other systems in use by that department relative to the records of criminals is an important bit of work and it is safe to say that Captain Murray has this down to perfection. Although one of the youngest of Dover's police squad he has been placed in charge of the department at night and under his supervision the night patrol has done much excellent work. He appears to be the right man in the right place.

ZEPPELINS TO BE BUILT FOR UNITED STATES

GERMAN TYPE AIRSHIPS AUTHORIZED FOR BOTH THE ARMY AND THE NAVY.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Ordinance and aircraft innovations designed from kinds developed by European belligerents have been authorized by both war and navy departments.

They include Zeppelin type airships large calibre mobile rifles and howitzers to be mounted on railroad trucks for the coast defense, or hauled by tractor engines over country roads. Secretary Daniels announced today that the "Zeppelin" would be constructed at once. Determination to build the craft was reached after an exhaustive study of the question of rigid airships by a joint committee of officers representing the aeronautical branches of both services, the general staff of the army and the general board of the navy.

This committee's recommendations have been approved by Secretaries Daniels and Baker, and the cost will be equally divided between the army and navy.

Army ordnance plants are already building at the Watervliet arsenal, New York, pilot guns of the 16 and 12-inch howitzers. Plans are virtually completed also for a 11-inch, high-power rifle with carriage for mounting on railroad trucks.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

DARKENS BEAUTIFULLY AND RESTORES ITS NATURAL COLOR AND LUSTRE AT ONCE.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

FOUR THREE STATES TO URGE DIVERSIFIED CROPS

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 10.—Five hundred business men of Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi today began a tour of these three states to urge the farmers to raise more food and feed crops. For three days the crusaders will travel through Arkansas divided into fifteen parties. Three days will be devoted to Tennessee and three days to Mississippi.

In the movement business men, state and national agricultural experts and railroad farm bureau agents are co-operating. The farmers are being told that twenty-cent cotton unless they raise food and feed for man and beast.

In the boll weevil sections, where cotton raising has been retarded, the farmers will be urged to raise other crops and an effort will be made to secure the co-operation of the "advancing merchants" and the farmers. Stock raising is also being urged and the farmers are being made to realize that they are not dependent on cotton alone. There are hundreds of farmers in the three states who raise nothing but cotton, failing to plant even a garden or an acre of corn for their livestock.

OLYMPIA THEATRE
NOTES

More than 3,000 theatres in the United States are showing Paramount pictures.

Theda Bara is the principal star today and tomorrow.

In "Her Double Life" she again displays the art for which she is famous throughout the world.

It is with pleasure that we announce that yesterday we received a telegram from the Boston office of the Universal film office announcing that two episodes of "Liberty" had been shipped and would arrive in this city early this morning.

Beautiful Mae Murray will be seen in an elaborate picturization of the famous stage play "Sweet Kitty Bellairs."

This is a very strong program and we would suggest that all who can will come as early as possible.

One summer afternoon, Caesar Augustus of Rome said: "Rome is great enough"—and from that day Rome made a dive for the second division where she has remained until this day.

We are glad to say that some picture producers see this moral very plainly—that which is good enough is likely to be good for nothing.

Friday and Saturday we shall present Hattie Bardsdale in a rollicking Irish Romance, "A Corner in Collens."

Everybody is waiting to see Douglas Fairbanks next Monday and Tuesday.

Soon—Francis Bushman and Beverly

Barne in "The Great Secret." Mrs. Vernon Castle in "Patricia."

Weather—Local, snow tonight; fair Thursday. Colder with a cold wave tomorrow.

SCHOOL BOARD APPROVES
INCREASE FOR TEACHERS

Finance Committee Reported Last Evening its Findings and Board Will Ask Council for Additional Funds

At the regular January meeting of the Board of Instruction, held on Tuesday evening at the office of Superintendent of Schools James N. Pringle, in City Hall, the recommendations of the finance committee that the board approve the demands of the teachers for an increase in salary were adopted. The board will take up the matter of the amount of increase to be recommended and in their budget for the year will ask the city council for a substantial increase in their annual appropriation. The meeting was called to order by the mayor with Dr. Towle, Rev. Mr. Gooding, Dr. Thayer, Messrs. Knight, McCarthy, and Newton, and Mrs. Beahm and Mrs. Wood present. Mrs. Wood, chairman of the committee on elementary schools, reported the election of Miss Agnes McCarthy of Rochester as assistant in the Farragut school for the remainder of the year, and the election of Ernest Lindbeck as musical instructor until the close of the year.

The chair appointed Dr. Thayer, Dr. Towle, and the Rev. Mr. Gooding as a committee to draft resolutions on the death of Mrs. Hewitt, late a member of the board.

Superintendent Pringle reported having received notice from the manufacturers of typewriters that on Feb. 1 the selling prices of machines would be greatly increased and he recommended that the board authorize him to exchange all old machines for new. He stated that this could be done at this time with a saving to the city of about $240.00. His recommendations were adopted and the board voted him authority to act in this matter. In the matter of the evening school Mr. Pringle further reported that the school was growing larger with each session until it had reached a membership of over forty. He said that several young men had made application to him for the establishment of an evening class in mechanical drawing. As they are Portsmouth boys, most of them employed at the navy yard, and are seeking to gain this subject in order to better themselves he recommended that a class for this purpose be formed. The recommendation was adopted, and the new class will be started on Thursday evening.

In the reports for finances for the year of 1916 there is a slight balance remaining over the appropriation, the school system having been conducted in all its branches within the limits of its funds.

That one of the freight clerks of the local office of the D. & M. has opened the eyes of fancy ice skaters on the North Mill pond.

That his latest work on the ice puts him in a class by himself.

That it also put him in the cold waters of the pond and gave the horses a chance to get in the limelight once more.

That many a man is forced to do a little kicking rather than be a human football.

That a man often becomes a martyr from listening to his wife and out talk of her good resolutions.

That Great Bay fishermen are hitting it lucky.

That it is remarkable how the little girl is all wrapped up in a big bill at the table and her older sister doesn't bother about anything on her chest but a locket.

That the man who goes after peas with his knife at the dinner table should be provided with molasses to moisten the knife.

That he will of the late Sarah J. Farmer was presented to the York county probate court by Attorney George F. Hughes of Dover.

That cabbage is taking some big jump in price.

That his vegetable is now selling for $80 per ton by the carload.

That it will reach $100 per ton in a short space of time.

That a glance at the daily papers gives us the idea that every woman mixed up in tragedies or who has been shot or injured or laid, were young and beautiful.

That many a laundry woman has a fine soap-rano voice.

That if you have never had the nightmare start reading all the murders that are in print.

That no small number of husbands never know there is a snowshovel in the house.

That a good peace plan for the man of the house is the bringing home of unexpected theatre tickets.

That two naughty, naughty boys in a fishing school drove a teacher, to sending in her resignation because she could not maintain discipline and the boys are much pleased with the outcome.

That they claim they had the teacher "canued."

That they would not get away with this brand of behavior in some places regardless of these humanitarian days.

TO HOLD
CARNIVAL BALL

P. A. C. to Plan a Novel Benefit Affair.

The members of the Portsmouth Athletic club are planning a big carnival ball to take place some time after Easter. The ball will be in the nature of a benefit and it is the suggestion of the special committee who were appointed some time ago to provide means for raising funds for the improvement of the club house.

The committee favor a carnival ball on lines altogether new for this city and on a scale never before attempted. Special novelty features will be provided and an excellent musical program will be furnished. Special committees to make the arrangements have been provided and they will start active work at once.

It is some time since the P. A. C. has given a big affair and the new idea will be looked forward to with anticipation.
